

Photographs of Ectocarpus for reference purposes.

Shelly Banks – Brown ectocarpus washing ashore in the seawater, (Sept. 2019)

Causeway Road, Bull Island – Green ectocarpus floating on high tide waters, (Sept. 2019)

Bull Island – (Light brown) Dried ectocarpus resting on top of the marshes once high tide waters recede, (Sept. 2019).

Merrion Strand – (Dark brown) recently washed up ectocarpus on the beach once tidal waters recede, (Sept. 2018).

Sandymount Promenade – Ectocarpus washed onto the rocks footpaths during a combination of heavy rainfall and high tides, (Oct. 2019).

Sandymount Beach – Ectocarpus at various stages of decay, (Oct. 2016).